Inspired by artistic collectives emerging from the Quiet Revolution in Quebec, Just Watch Me aims to convert the gallery space into a place for social exchange. The exhibition will feature a variety of events such as workshops, conferences, poetry readings, screenings, and more. The project looks to address notions of identity and community in contemporary society. An event initiated by Romeo Gongora, a Canadian-Guatemalan artist whose practice centers on the social.

Just Watch Me, an event presented & produced by the Leonard & Bina Ellen Art Gallery.
